Harvesting Big Crop Is Well Under Way

The harvesting of the biggest crop in this district for many years is proceeding rapidly, and with favorable weather for the next two weeks the largest part of the grain will be in the elevators or granaries. Cutting is practically completed and threshing operations are going on in all parts of the district.

A summary of the estimates by the elevator men shows that 800,000 bushels of wheat will probably be marketed at this point. There is also a big crop of coarse grains and it is estimated that there will be 450,000 bushels available for market if the price is reasonable. With the present low quotations, however, it is felt that most of these grains will be held.

Frost has caused some damage, and hail has cost the district at least 100,000 bushels. The grades will range from 1 to 5, but very little No. 1 is expected. The Abilgrim farm east of town reported one field averaged 45 bushels per acre and graded No. 1. The rest of their crop will range in grade from 2 to 5.

West of town threshing has just nicely got under way and many crops are estimated to go as high as 55 bushels per acre.

There is a bumper crop of barley throughout the district, yields being estimated at from 35 to 40 bushels per acre on an average.

Community Hall School Fair

The Community Hall School Fair held on Wednesday last was again a very successful affair and in spite of the busy season the attendance was very good.

The exhibits were exceptionally good in every department and the boys and girls are to be congratulated, especially on the school work.

In commenting on the fair, one of the teachers remarked that the fair was one of the best helps in school work, as it kept up interest throughout the year.

The judges were: Mr. Malyon, livestock and poultry; Miss H. McCaig, domestic science; Mr. C. E. Yauch, vegetables, grain, flowers and woodwork; Inspector Crispo, school work.

The educational diploma was won by Jutland School and the agricultural diploma by Rosebud School.

The cup for the annual relay race was again won by Jutland. This is school has won the cup for six years in succession and has now two cups as its own property.

The following special prizes donated by Didsbury merchants were won as follows:

Cut License Fee For All Trucks

Alberta farmers hauling their own grain will benefit by a reduction in truck license fees which came into effect last week, it was stated by motor license issuing officials.

Licenses taken out now are good until March 31, 1939, will cost 40 per cent less than the annual fee. Last year the reduction came into effect a month later—on October 1.

If a farmer desires to haul grain for others with his truck he is obliged however, to secure a special licence.

Memorial Service Well Attended

The Canadian Legion memorial service which was held at the Memorial on the Butte on Sunday afternoon was a very impressive ceremony.

The beautiful weather brought out a large crowd and there was a larger attendance than for several years.

The members of the Legion met at the Hall to parade to the Butte and were joined by the Girl Guides, Rangers, Brownies, Boy Scouts and Wolf Cubs. At the Butte they were joined by the ladies of the I.O.D.E.

The service was conducted by Rev. A. S. Caughell, who also delivered the address.

Wreaths in honor of those men of Didsbury who had laid down their lives during and since the Great War were laid by Comrade J. D. Thomas, president of the Legion, and Mrs. C. R. Ford, regent of the I.O.D.E. Other wreaths and flowers were laid by Mrs. Wm. Ross (Girl Guides); Mrs. R. G. Ady (Rangers); Miss Rena Mowers (Brownies); Don Mortimer (Boy Scouts) and various members of these organizations. Many beautiful flowers were laid by relatives and friends of the fallen comrades.

WEDDINGS

NASMITH-MOYLE
The marriage of Joyce Madeleine Moyle, youngest daughter of Mr. F. T. Moyle, of Didsbury, to Douglas Forbes Nasmith, of Toronto, son of Mr. M. E. Nasmith, took place September 10th, at the home of the bride's father. Rev. J. E. Harris, of Crescent Heights Baptist Church, officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore an afternoon dress of turquoise blue, with brown accessories and carried Sweetheart roses.

The guests were received by Miss Emily Moyle, sister of the bride. Members of the family home for the wedding were, Miss Ruth Moyle, Edmonton; Miss Winifred Moyle, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pogmore and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Davies.

Among the guests were: Mr. M. E. Nasmith, Toronto, father of the groom; Mrs. J. P. McMillan, Allendale, Ont.; Mr. H. H. Bishop, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. T. Morgan, Didsbury; Rev. H. E. Harris and Mrs. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Patterson, Misses Ruth and Catherine Patterson, all of Calgary; Mrs. L. T. Torgerson, Miss Lorine Torgerson, and Mr. and Mrs. L. Preston, all of Edmonton; Mr. George Patterson of Colombo, Sth. America.

Mr. and Mrs. Nasmith left for the west coast, the bride travelling in a brown French wool costume. On their return they will reside at 1184 Avenue Road, Toronto.

W.C.T.U. To Watch Drunkometer Work

A "drunkometer," an instrument reported to be capable of detecting alcohol on a person's breath, probably will be demonstrated at the Alberta Women's Christian Temperance Union annual convention to be held in Didsbury from October 12th to 14th, it was stated in Edmonton by Mrs. Grace Knight, president of the Alberta branch of the W.C.T.U.

In the United States "drunkometers" have been used by police agencies in determining sobriety of persons involved in automobile accidents, stated Mrs. Knight, and the machine was demonstrated at a convention of the National Women's Temperance Union in San Francisco recently.

"If 'drunkometers' are practical, we may urge their use by Alberta law officers," Mrs. Knight added.

Next Sunday is Rally Day and the Sunday School is holding a special open session in the Primary department as well as in the Junior-Senior department. A cordial invitation is given to all parents and friends to attend the sessions in both departments. Reducing Hay Consumption

Mechanization In United Kingdom Means Fewer Horses Used

Increased mechanization is reducing the consumption of hay in the United Kingdom. For example, the Army which used 16,408 horses in 1933-34 has only 5,205 horses in 1938-39. The demand for hay also by collieries and railways which have been large purchasers of hay for horses is down at least 25 per cent. as compared with 1937. This year's hay crop in England and Wales is much reduced, but the large carryover from 1937 and the decreased consumption from increased mechanization militates against any large increases in importations of hay. However, importations of hay from Canada are likely to increase with the coming winter, but for the reasons stated it is not anticipated that the demand of hay from Canada will be greatly above the average.

The Latest Robot

Ticket-Taker Being Tested In South Carolina Theatre

Percy C. Osteen, theatre-manager for 19 years in Anderson, S.C., has invented a machine which automatically takes, records, and destroys show tickets.

Three years ago, with the assistance of his son, Harry Osteen, the inventor built the first miniature model in brass, and in October, 1935, carried it to Washington for the purpose of patenting it. Since then he has patented improvements so that the machine has been completed and is installed in the Osteen theatre. After being subjected to a thorough work-out under actual operating conditions, the device will be placed upon the market.

Bumpers Used As Aerials

Police Scout Cars Install New Antenna System

Police in radio-equipped scout cars will literally be able to carry on conversation with police headquarters through the rear bumper of the automobile in which they are cruising, as a result of a new antenna system developed in the research laboratories of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N.Y.

The new antenna system uses the auto bumper as a radio transmitting aerial.

According to the inventor, George W. Fyler, the rear bumper makes a more efficient aerial for broadcasting from police scout cars than do the conventional running board, vertical and roof aerials heretofore used. The bumper, when used as an aerial, sends out the radio waves more nearly uniform in all directions, so that the signals can readily be picked up from all points by other scout cars or police headquarters.

Another feature claimed for the bumper aerial is that it is inconspicuous. It does not "give away" to the criminal the fact that the police car is equipped with a radio transmitter.

Misleading Statistics

Trade Returns Between Denmark And Canada Not Accurate

One of the cases where statistics may be misleading is to be found in the trade returns between Denmark and Canada. In Denmark, statistics of imports are based on the country of purchase. Most of the Canadian wheat imported into Denmark is purchased in New York and is therefore credited to the United States. According to Canadian statistics the Dominion's exports to Denmark were valued at $1,088,507 for 1937 which is approximately twice the amount credited to the Dominion in the Danish returns. If Ill Health Forces Finance Minister Dunning To Retire

Ottawa political circles are speculating over the proposed reorganization of the Dominion Cabinet in view of the strong possibility that ill health may force Finance Minister Dunning to retire from public life.

The names of Revenue Minister Hiesley, Trade Minister Euler, and Agriculture Minister Gardiner are suggested for the Finance portfolio in the event of Mr. Dunning stepping out. No immediate action is expected.

Interested In His Subjects

One Reason King George Has Endured Himself To People

King George VI. is still in the earliest stage of what we may confidently trust will be a long and prosperous reign, but he cannot be content to interpret his high office in the light of inherited tradition alone, states the London Spectator.

Many of the traditions attaching to a Court are valuable, some are picturesque and harmless, some, which make for ostentation and affectation and snobbery, are definitely evil. The time has long gone past when this country recognized a ruling class and was satisfied that its sovereign should be in contact with that alone.

It is not enough to-day that the King should concern himself with high politics. If he is to keep his hold on his people's hearts he must keep contact with his people's lives. That is not easy for a king; it is due to him, indeed, to recognize how hard it is. Ceremonial and official duties form a stern routine, and with a sovereign as conscientious as King George the danger is that more may be laid on him than a normal physique can bear.

But the King has made it amply clear that it is not for shows and ceremonies that he cares, but for the lives the ordinary people of the country are living. Just ten days after his return from the mission he fulfilled so admirably amid unexamined splendor at Paris he was being rowed ashore in a pull-over and shorts by two East Coast fishermen to play the host to his 400 guests at Southwold. It is by no means certain that on a long-term reckoning the former was the greater service.

Will Record Lightning Bolt

Niagara Power Device Picks Up Storm Even At Distance

A machine which records lightning bolts as inky scratches stood ready to put the "history" of Western New York's next electrical storm on paper.

Every lightning bolt within 15 miles of Buffalo is recorded on a device constructed by the Niagara Power Company. It enables experts to tell how the company's equipment holds up during electrical storms.

The machine can be used to forecast the approach of the storm by picking up bolts at a distance. During a terrific thunderstorm in Buffalo it recorded 2,200 bolts in the area, the highest number on record. The previous high was 1,000, recorded a year ago.

Bolts are "picked up" on an antenna similar to that on a radio.

Deportation For Blasphemy

British Authorities Have New Law To Banish Undesirables

Aliens in Great Britain who blaspheme will, under a new bill, be liable to imprisonment and deportation. This will strengthen the hands of the British authorities, who sometimes have difficulty in finding sufficient reason for expelling known undesirables. Soho and the East End are hotbeds of alien riff-raff who revel in blasphemy. This eloquence, however, will be disastrous in the near future. London Sunday Express.

Champion Wheat Passes

New Rust-Resistant Varieties Pushing Marquis Into Discard

The London, Ont., Free Press, says the battles of science are never final. Each victory merely marks the beginning of a new phase of the campaign for man's victory over the forces of nature. This truth is demonstrated by the fate of Marquis wheat.

When the patient research of the late Sir Charles Saunders resulted in a new wheat with high milling and baking qualities which would ripen considerably earlier than previous varieties the exploit was widely hailed. It has meant millions of dollars for Canadian farmers and indirectly has added Canadian industry to a similar extent. The wheat-growing district of Canada was pushed many miles toward the Arctic.

Now new varieties of wheat are pushing Marquis into the discard, as the Vancouver Province points out. With all its good qualities Marquis is susceptible to rust. Now Western farmers are turning to rust-resistant wheats. Over 56 per cent. of Manitoba's crop this year is of this type, and most of it is the sensational new Thatcher wheat. Saskatchewan's experience with rust is likely to mean that a far larger percentage than the 15 per cent. sown this year will be in rust-resistant strains.

The Marquis tradition will be carried on, for most of the improved varieties are descendants of Marquis and have added its good qualities to their own new and distinctive ones. No doubt they will in their turn, be superseded by improved varieties which will enable the West to contribute still more to the bread-basket of the world.

To Test Oxygen Mask

Research Flight At High Altitude Made By Howard Hughes

Howard Hughes, 'round-the-world and transcontinental record holder, has hung up another aerial record but it was only incidental to a research flight.

Winging non-stop from Los Angeles to New York to test a new type of oxygen mask for high altitude flight, Hughes, in his 'round-the-world transport type' plane, crossed the continent in 10 hours, 34 minutes, beating the best previous transport record by almost 30 minutes. He flew at an average altitude of 20,000 feet.

In January, 1937, however, he crossed the continent in seven hours, 28 minutes and 25 seconds in a special racing 'plane.'

Landing at Floyd Bennett airport, Hughes and three companions said the new type oxygen mask held great possibilities for future flight at extremely high altitudes.

"Ultimately," Hughes said, "transport operations will be conducted at altitudes of around 30,000 feet. Our present equipment and engines will not permit regular flight at that height. The point I want to make is this: That as an aeroplane leaves sea level the man at the controls becomes less efficient.

"A good oxygen mask, permitting the pilot of the transport to breathe oxygen and air of the same density as that at sea level is going to do much toward making high altitude flying easy and efficient."

Gold Coins Salvaged

Small Part Of Cargo Belonging To Wrecked Frigate

Giant fingers of the dredger Kari-mata scooped up a handful of coins Aug. 11 from the ocean floor where the frigate Lutine went down in a gale 139 years ago with $2,500,000 in gold aboard.

The find brought jubilation to the salvagers who earlier this summer hauled up a gold slab. The cargo of the yellow metal was consigned to English soldiers fighting against Napoleon.

Since 1859 salvagers have tried to extract the buried treasure from the sunken hulk.

POOR MAN'S GOLD

COURTNEY RYLEY COOPER

COPYRIGHT-COURTNEY RYLEY COOPER • • • W.N.U. SERVICE

They were nearing the more populous regions of the camp. Hammond turned to her.

"Let's be frank. You want me to get you past Sergeant Terry. Is that it?"

"That—was in my mind."

"In other words, take that extra dog team of mine, and the supplies I had intended to leave behind, and say they're your own?"

"It was just a desperate idea. To ask you to let me pretend to the sergeant that these things were mine, drive them through and then turn them back to you."

"After that?" asked Hammond.

She shrugged her shoulders.

"I spent almost my whole life in the North—until a short time ago. If the world has to come to an end—She halted, as though she had said too much. Hammond was silent. They reached a fork of the icy trail; one led to Hammond's tent. "Good night," she said.

A sudden wave of impulsiveness shot through Hammond. His mittened hand touched her shoulder.

"You've given me an idea," he announced. "Get up early to-morrow. I'll have the dogs and that sled full of stuff at the restaurant a little before daylight."

He hurried on, with her gasp of gratitude faintly following him. The next morning, in the dull gray of a snow-clouded dawn, Hammond walked to the all-but-dismantled camp with Sergeant Terry. Toboggans were packed; already team after team of dogs, squatted in their harness, were spotted about the lake, the upper reaches of which led to the valley of the Caribou. There was shouting and hurried preparations.

"I see that girl's supplies came in all right last night," the sergeant said.

"Oh, yes," Hammond's voice was casual.

"Nice hitch of dogs she's got." The sergeant grinned broadly. "Well, I guess if I owned a river bed full of gold, I'd be doing the same fool things myself." Dismissing the subject, he shouted, "Hey, Annie, all set?"

More and more men—and women—with pack sacks, more dog teams, more sleds and toboggans assembled on the lake, until the foreground was black with humans. Hammond involuntarily looked about for Jeanne Towers. She was there, and the man saw from the way she handled her dogs that she had told him no falsehood.

At last the sergeant raised his gun. The barking reverberation of the long-barreled revolver broke crisply against the sharp morning. A cheer came from a prospector's throat, to be taken up by other men and punctuated by the high cries of women. A trapper remembered that he too had a gun, and fired it into the air. Immediately a dozen others joined him; the cries and shouts and booming of firearms rose to a thundering peak. Then as quickly came dead silence, as if these people had remembered the gaunt, cruel journey before them. Hammond's voice sounded crisply.

"All right, string out! Slip into the trail and start mushing. Don't try to rush—you'll be a long time getting there."

A driver yelled to his dogs. One by one, others followed. What had been an indiscriminate mass of cheering humans became a long, black, crawling line. It twisted across the lake, writhed into the valley of the Caribou which lay beyond and crawled laboriously toward the first rise of nearly two hundred miles of mountains, of plateaus and valleys and lakes and icy streams, along the great white trail to a new bonanza.

At Last the Sergeant Raised His Gun.

Two weeks later, they were still at it, moving more slowly now along an agonizing journey, broken often by slides of loosened snow in the narrow valleys, where hills rose precipitately, or where the willows, thick and tangled, blocked progress until a trail could be cut through. Everyone was tired—especially Hammond. Twice a day, he must make the line of march from one end to the other. It was hard going to-day; a chinook had been blowing.

"Here, take this stick," he called, as he passed Jeanne Towers. "Use it to keep your snowshoes clear."

"Thanks, I've got one—on the toboggan. I've just been watching for a stopping place, to change moccasins and have a general clean-up."

Hammond fell in beside her. For a moment, there was little sound save the quick breathing of dogs, the slide of toboggans and the cluff of snowshoes, punctuated by quick tapping noises as mushers hit their webs on the rising step with light clubs, to free them from chinook-sticky snow. The shouting and excited conversation long ago had passed. This was gruelling effort.

"Like the North?" he asked. Something like a tomboy's happiness blazed in her brown eyes.

"Oh, I do. It's so clean."

Jack went, wondering about the remark. After a long time, he began thinking of some of the city rooming houses in which he had spent out-of-luck days; grimy windows, carpets gritty with dirt, soot on one's face, a black taste to the air.

"Better not wait too long to make camp," he shouted to one of the old-timers. "We'll get out early to-morrow on the crust."

But late that night, when the rest of the camp was snoring, Hammond saw that there was to be no crust on the morning's snow. The chinook had continued, veering slightly toward morning. Dawn was gray, lowering, cheerless. Then the wind shifted. A bite came into the air.

"Yah, we'll have snow." It was Olson, the man with the hewed-out face whom Hammond had met in Prince Rupert. He paused a moment as the long line began to move.

"Yah, we'll have plenty of snow." Hammond nodded and went onward. He would have a job to-day. It was hard enough keeping this line moving in the sunshine. Morning became early afternoon. The sky grew heavier, more ominous.

"No loading!" he shouted, as the trek started anew, following the noontime halt. "And no hanging back."

A stoop-shouldered man turned his head; skin raw from pelting ice particles, eyes like balls of blood from snow burn.

"How'll we ever keep in line and change wet moccasins?" he queried. "Keep 'em on, I suppose, and get frostbite?"

"We'll make stops for that." The first slash of snow had begun to drive down out of the high reaches of the mountains. "Keep moving—and stay together."

The flakes had become thicker now; like a sticky white shield. All in an instant, the mountains began to fade.

"Stay together!" he shouted, as he worked back along the line. "Stay together!"

They had come out of a valley to a wide lake and were now well upon it. On his lumpy snowshoes, Jack made the end of the line, shouting his caution, and hearing it echoed by the more experienced men of this long serpentine of gold seekers. The sound of clubbing as sticks rapped against snow-gummed webs was general now. The world had become a fog of white. Once again Hammond started forward, hurrying at the blurred sight of a laggard beside the trail. With some surprise, he saw it was Jeanne Towers.

"What's wrong?" he queried brusquely.

"My lead dog broke his trace. I think I've got it fixed."

Hammond examined the harness.

"Looks all right," he decided.

"We're going to camp as soon as we strike the end of this lake."

"And then how far?" asked Jeanne. Hammond had heard that query a hundred times in the last few days.

"Oh, we're well over the worst of it. We'll have a tough time for awhile after we get out of this lake country have to hit for the plateaus—the winds are pretty bad there. Then we'll drop down to the Likken river—going should be fairly easy after that."

"How far?" the girl asked again.

"Sixty miles. A man could make it in two days with a fresh team."

Hammond went on toward the head of the line.

"When do we get to the end of this lake?" shouted the lead musher. A note of panic was in his voice. Hammond turned swiftly, glancing down the line.

"Olson!" he shouted. "Take the lead here and hold it. When you hit the shore line, go into camp!"

"Ay!" came the answer. Olson, with his elongated webs, strode out of line, rounded those in front of him, then began to plod again. Hammond once more moved swiftly toward the rear, only to return more quickly. At last he reached the side of the leader and strode beside him, staring back into the snow.

"Somebody's missing," he told Olson. "I'll try to find 'em. If I'm not back by morning, hold camp and start out a gang to look for me."

Old Mother Earth

Brightest Painted Lady In Solar System State Astronomers

Old mother earth, viewed with the astronomical looking-glass of the moon, is the brightest painted lady in the solar system.

The moon-mirror studies were described at Flagstaff, Arizona, by Dr. V. M. Slipher, director of the Lowell Observatory. During a total eclipse of the moon, the earth's shadow falls to hide the moon completely. Deep red rays from the corona-like sunlit ring of the earth's air keep the moon just barely visible.

The astronomers, examining these rays as the moon mirrors them back to earth, find that they come from sunlight shining through the lens-like earth's atmosphere.

The earth, then during eclipse, wears a splendid halo in the form of a rainbow tied around her face like a poke bonnet. The rainbow is produced by the atmosphere around her rim, which refracts—bends the rays and selectively absorbs, thus greatly accentuating the reddish tones.

When her face is in sunlight the earth becomes one of the albinos among planets. She reflects more light than most of them. The astronomical term for this reflection is "albedo."

Factory Being Enlarged

Fireproof Addition To Shredded Wheat Plant Under Construction

A fireproof addition to the plant of Canadian Shredded Wheat Company Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont., is at present under construction. When completed the total floor area of the plant will be increased by more than 50 per cent. The new building is being constructed of skeleton steel frame with reinforced concrete fireproofing and floor slabs, maple floors and face brick exterior to match the present building. When the enlarged plant is in full operation the number of employees will be increased 150 per cent. It is expected that the building will be completed in December. About 390 tons of structural steel will be used. The enlarged plant will manufacture a full line of "Shredded Wheat" products, including some not manufactured at present.

What Hulloo Means

When you shout "Hullo!" you are really saying "A loup!" the warning cry given by forest residents in the old days, and equivalent to "Wolf!" It is said that "Hullo!" still survives in Charnwood Forest, England, as a hailing term. If you repeat "A loup!" pronounced "Ah loo!" quickly you will see how "Hullo!" arose.

Around the coast of Britain there are about 290 life-saving stations and 4,000 volunteers and members of life-saving brigades, in addition to the regular lifeboat service.

Impossible To Evade

But Physical Fitness Great Factor In Fighting Any Disease

A recent incident in the career of the Dionne quintuplets at Callander, Ont., gives convincing proof of the impossibility of entirely evading illness, even when isolation is as perfect as it is possible to make it, when every precaution is taken to ward off attacks by germs to which the average human being is exposed.

The quints were recently withdrawn from the usual public exhibitions because of tonsillitis. They were the victims of the kind of "sore throat" that is the plague of infant existence and attacks almost every youngster sooner or later.

But the quints have led a model existence since birth. They have had the advantage of every scientific aid to health, they have led purely hygienic lives. They have been protected by every artifice of medical skill. How is it, then, that they have defective tonsils, like any ragamuffin who has been poverty-ridden? That is a puzzling question which suggests that it is practically impossible to guard human beings against disease germs. The case of the quintuplets is likely to be the outstanding experiment in the effort to ward off harmful germs that Canada may hope to witness, yet the bacteria responsible for tonsillitis has been able to break through what was regarded as an impervious defence. No one can explain how it reached these children. It must have been carried in the air.

There is this about the situation, that these children had a rapid recovery and the lesson therefrom is, that while modern science may fail to shut out the harmful germs, it can produce in human beings, a condition of fitness that is likely to ensure a victory over disease when it does attack. It seems that human beings have need of good food and hygienic environment in order that their constitutions may be so fortified that they can overcome the enemy disease germs when they make their inevitable attacks.

The Indian Language

Nearly All Tribes Have Practically Abolished It For English

Apparently, even in the far north, the Indian is losing his language and adopting English, says the Sault Ste. Marie Star. There may be isolated tribes yet which are not yet infiltrated by English, but this is doubtful. The Indian and Eskimo are so dependent now on the outsider that they can hardly escape soon losing their old ways of life, and with the loss of their unwritten languages the curtain is bound to ring down on tribes that have for ages preserved a strong individuality.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE

Director "Crop Testing Plan"

"There are so many classes and grades of seed. What is really the best to buy?"—a farmer friend asked.

There are three main classes of seed, with No. one, two and three Grades within one class:—(A) GENERAL SEEDS OF COMMERCE—which require a Control Sample Certificate stating that the stalks are up to certain germination standards, and that they contain no more weed seeds nor seeds of other kinds of grain than the Seed Act permits.

(B) CERTIFIED SEED—which is the same kind of material as (A) excepting that it is a little purer in each grade and also that the stalks are are certified to be true to a high standard of excellent to one specified variety.

(C) REGISTERED SEED—which again is the same as (B) excepting that it is even purer, and it is true to variety to a still higher standard of excellence even than certified seed.

The best qualities of Registered and Certified seed are contained in sacks, each individual sack having been inspected, tagged and sealed by an officer of the Dominion Seed Branch. Certified seed in the sack is more expensive than General Seeds of Commerce, and Registered Seed is somewhat more expensive than Certified, simply because it is the highest quality seed obtainable.

Following factors have tended to raise price: Wheat harvesting losses from extreme heat feared in Russia -- French and German wheat surplus will be kept for emergency -- reserves -- Feeding of cheap wheat in Europe likely above normal -- Spain inquiring for wheat -- Estonian wheat and rye crops smaller than 1937 -- Britain negotiating to take 50 per cent of Balkan corn surplus.

Following factors have tended to lower price: International Institute forecasts record 1938 wheat crop -- General rains do immense good to Argentine crops -- U.S. and Canada pressing liberal quantities of wheat for export -- Russian wheat price offers considerably under Indian and American -- Russia pressing barley -- Italian wheat crop supposedly equal to needs -- Holland has particularly good rye crop -- Poland subsidizing rye exports.

Serving a Great Field

From United Grain Growers' terminal at Port Arthur to that at Vancouver is over 1,800 miles. It is over a thousand miles in a straight line from the most easterly of the Company's elevators to the most westerly one. Its most southerly elevator is 500 miles further south than its most northerly elevator. It is a vast area which is served by this farmers' company. Because of the great area served, it has resources, equipment, organization and information enabling it to give every possible protection to the interests of its farmer customers.

Organized by farmers, owned by farmers, controlled by farmers, this company's essential purpose is now, as it has always been, to be of service to farmers. The experience of farmers throughout the vast area served proves that this purpose has been carried out throughout the Company's history of more than thirty years.

Items of Interest

Of interest to all radio listeners will be the appearance over Alberta Stations of the well known radio artist, "Smilin' Ed" McConnell. "Smilin' Ed" is famous to the South, and Albertans are also bound to fall victims to his charm and cheery personality, and the magic voice which made his "Hymntime" program an outstanding feature of the air. In sheer contrast to the "pop" programs so much in vogue, "Smilin' Ed" starts the day serenely with fifteen minutes of hymns and homely philosophy. The Millers of Robin Hood Flour are sponsoring this program through the winter months, each Monday, Wednesday, and Friday morning over stations CFAC, Calgary, and CJOA, Edmonton, at 8:30 a.m. in each case.

Damage estimated at $100 000 was caused by a fire that gutted the Metropolitan Stores building in downtown Edmonton at noon on Saturday as a crowd of 10,000 watched firefighters spray the three-story building with 11 lines of hose. Two persons were injured, but not seriously, by flying glass.

Western Canada grain crop for 1938 has a total value of $312 945,000, nearly $70 000,000 higher than last year and $20 000 000 higher than 1936, according to the Winnipeg Free Press.

Smith Ballew Mixes Thrills and Tunes in "Western Gold"

Four songs that have lived long in the memories of those living on this continent and which are still popular items in the song-bag are listed among the numbers rendered by Smith Ballew, famous radio cowboy songster starred in "Western Gold" at the Opera House this weekend.

The songs are: "We're Tenting Tonight," "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair," "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and "Camptown R cep." All these numbers originated during the early 1860's, the period in which the story of "Western Gold" transpires.

The story deals with the efforts of President Lincoln and his cabinet to rush gold to the East during the Civil War. Smith Ballew—cowboy, soldier of fortune, scout, trail blazer and buffalo hunter—is selected by Lincoln to break up a bandit gang that has been robbing the gold coaches en route. His indomitable courage in the face of countless hazards eventually brings him success. "Western Gold" features Heather Angel in the romantic role opposite Smith Ballew.
